We regret to learn of the illness of Dr. Gamble at Turberville.

Mr. D. M. Bradham and wife, returned home from the mountains last night.

The summer swallows are flying back home from the pleasure resorts, every day brings more home-comers.

Mrs. J. W. McLeod, with her sons, E. P. and J. L. McLeod, returned home last Friday from their northern trip.

Summer is considering the gas plant proposition, wondering if this is the same concern that has the hotel proposition in charge?

Mr. Frank Ervin with his wife and brother Mr. D. C. Ervin of Cuba were among the visitors in Charleston during the storm.

On account of the illness of his wife Rev. R. L. Grier will not preach at Brewington or Corinth the first Sunday in September.

Mr. Fritz Young, who is in the employ of the Southern Railroad, has been ill with typhoid fever and he came home last Friday night.

The storm which prevailed during Sunday night, and at times on Monday, so far as we have been able to hear did but little damage in this county.

Hon. C. M. Davis has been a very ill man at his home in Summerton, but we are glad to say that there are now some indications of improvement.

Dr. Hagood Woods has returned from Europe where he has been to take a special course in medicine. We understand he will locate in Florence.

Mrs. A. Weinberg and her daughter, Mrs. C. B. Geiger, arrived home from Breward, N. C., last Thursday. The husbands are acting now just as they did before their wives went away.

The Manning graded school opens on the 11th, which no doubt is joyful news for the boys and girls of this town. Gather up your old books and get them ready to exchange for new ones if you must.

Charlton Duffant, Esq., has moved his law office into the new building of the Home Bank and Trust Company, and he has as fine offices in his new quarters as will be found anywhere in the State.

Prof. J. C. Daniel arrived in Manning last night. He spent his vacation at the summer school in Nashville, and at several pleasure resorts. He is here now preparing ready for the opening session of the school.

The farmers as well as everybody else are glad to welcome Mr. W. G. King back on the Manning cotton market. He rolled in last week and says he is ready to make it busy for the other buyers this season.

Died near Kinston last Monday Mr. Frank M. Player, aged about 63 years. The funeral took place yesterday at Mr. Vernon near Martin's Cross Roads. The deceased was a brother of Mr. J. M. Player of New Zion.

Died on Tuesday of last week at her home near New Zion, Mrs. Lina Beard, aged about 50 years. The burial took place at the Grove church on Wednesday. Prof. Fred Morris in the absence of the minister, conducted the service.

315 cases of hookworm disease have been treated in this county at the free dispensary, which opened on the 18th of last month. Practically all of these came up until they were assured of a complete cure. 51 cases were treated last week.

What the Oak Grove boys did for the Trinity fellows last Friday afternoon in a game of ball was a caution. The Trinity boys were not in it a little bit. Oak Grove beat them 11 to 9. Here is a good chance for DuPont to tackle a set that can play ball. Let them challenge Oak Grove.

Last Thursday was a record breaker on Manning's tobacco market, in quantity and price, and the sellers were well pleased with the prices paid them. It is the opinion of the growers that there will not be over a 50 per cent crop, but it will bring as much if not more actual money than the crop of last year.

The Home Bank and Trust Company's new home is practically complete, and it is a very handsome structure, a credit to its promoters and Mr. McLeod the contractor. With the arrival of some fixtures which are looked for daily, the bank will be open for business.

This morning's report of the storm has increased the death toll to 15. Shipping badly damaged, and many vessels in distress. Charleston is recovering rapidly. The crops along the coast damaged severely, especially the rice. The City of Line Yankee with a large list of passengers from New York had a very close call, many of the passengers hurt.

The veterans had a good time in Columbia last week. Those that went from this county are loud in their praises of the kind treatment they received and are now longing for the time when they will have the opportunity of going back to that city to again thank their old comrades and enjoy the hospitality of the good people of Columbia.

Back from the northern markets arrived J. H. Rigby the young reliable, honest, and reliable man. He is here to settle. He will take the readers of The Times into his confidence and tell them all about his purchases while in the commercial centers. Rigby is not a man of words, deeds and facts are what he seeks to accomplish. So watch the columns of this newspaper and you will soon hear from him good and strong.

Mr. F. Earl Bradham, editor of the Allendale Herald spent last Monday in Manning on a visit to his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bradham. He was accompanied here by his wife and twins whom he leaves to spend a few days. Mr. Bradham says the farmers of his vicinity have made good crops and they had a fine mellow season which brought to them a large amount of money.

The railroad proposition which has of late been having our people on the anxious bench, hoping that the Seaboard will come to this town is still awaiting a hearing from the promoters. We understand that there is a probability of a visit from the general manager to this town in the near future, and when he comes he will be presented with such data as we believe will convince him that Manning should be taken into serious consideration.

The town council should take some steps towards giving protection to people from fast running of automobiles around the corner of Boyce and Brooks streets, these two streets are the most congested streets we have and on busy days there is much travel, on foot and in vehicles about this particular corner. To avoid accident council should require automobiles to come to a standstill just before reaching the corner, but the council before proceeding on. Requirements of this kind are made in other towns and we see no reason why it should not be made in Manning at the corner referred to. It will not do to put this matter off until some serious accident has occurred and then go to extremes, now is the time to take action and to see to it that the regulation is strictly enforced against all. The writer has frequently seen automobiles going around this corner at a high rate of speed, fortunately no one has been hurt, to extend regrets after an accident amounts to nothing, to avoid accidents the matter should have council's immediate attention.

Krasnoff is Ready.

Nothing succeeds like success, is a true saying, but if it needs further proof, it is demonstrated in the Big Store of M. M. Krasnoff, on the corner of Brooks and Boyce Streets in this town. Krasnoff comes as near having a department store as is found in a town of much larger size than this, and it is his boast of being able to supply the trading public with what it demands, at prices too, that are entertaining. Read his half-page advertisement in this issue, there he tells the trading public what he proposes doing in the way of selling goods, and what he says in the prints he never fails to carry out to the letter; therefore, those contemplating buying will do well to see him. Krasnoff carries a large stock of almost everything except groceries, and he has a force to aid him in the handling of the trade which insures prompt and pleasant attention. He has just returned from the markets, where he has been to make ready for a large business. Every day the railroad brings to him large shipments of goods, most of which he says he bought from first hands, that is to say, a large proportion of his stock comes direct from the manufacturers, thereby putting him in a position to save the middleman's profit, and giving an advantage to his customers. He says his furniture stock is merely a side line, in response to a demand of his trade, that this line he sells without profit. His furniture department is full to overflowing, and splendid selections can be made there. The same can be said of all of his departments, clothing, dry goods, shoes, furnishing goods, in fact everything. To really appreciate this Big Store is to visit it, and let them show through.

Attention! Times Subscribers.

The Times' management has been exceedingly lenient with the subscribers, and it is simply a matter of business for it to require payment. Every paper has the date when the subscription expired on the label. There is no reason for any one to be ignorant of this. Upon looking over the lists it is found that a good many have overlooked their indebtedness to The Times, and it becomes necessary for the management to keep within the postal regulations to chop off the names of those who have not paid. It has, however, been decided to direct attention to this matter first, and to give a most positive notice that all subscriptions over one year in arrears by the first of October will be stricken from the lists. This is no idle threat, under the postal regulations it is compulsory, the matter has been overlooked; in a number of instances the management has permitted arrears to go over two years, and its attention has just been directed to it. It was given until the 1st of Oct. to have its lists cleared of delinquents. It is sincerely hoped the friends of The Times will either come in with or send in their arrears before that date so it will not be necessary to cut them off. Remember that the cutting off will be sure the day after the 1st of October without regard to who the delinquents are.

Abrams' Big Sale.

Attention is directed to the great big advertisement in this issue of Aaron Abrams, the commercial baw best of this town. Abrams has a tremendous stock of goods, and he is determined to sell. It is evident from the manner he is going at the public to attract its attention to his store. There is no doubt that a man to sell goods these days of sharp competition must make good his promises in the public prints, therefore when a merchant comes to the public with a reduction of prices and he names those prices for many of his wares there must be enough in it to justify the trading public in going to his store to see for itself. Abrams in this issue of The Times has some startling prices. He makes some bold claims. The proof of the pudding is the "chawin of the string" so it behooves those desiring to take advantage of the offerings to visit his store at the beginning of the sale. Abrams says that he knows there are many who are skeptical about these special sales, they have an idea, because a merchant puts one on it is merely a bluff to attract attention to his store, and then it is all off, to such he gives a special invitation to be convinced, he urges them to go through his stock and he will prove to them that he means just what he says in the advertisement in this issue of The Times.

A Suicide in Jail.

Early Saturday morning Sheriff Gamble was aroused by groaning coming from one of the cells, and going on to where the sounds came from he found Ellison Adger writhing in agony. He discovered that the prisoner had drunk concentrated lye with suicidal intent. The sheriff immediately sent for medical aid, but the poor wretch was beyond the aid of medical skill, in fact, he resisted treatment, and suffered the agonies of a living hell until relief came to him about 2 o'clock Sunday morning. An inquest was held over the body, and the jury rendered a verdict of suicide. Sheriff Gamble did not know there was such a thing about the jail as lye. It seems that sometime ago he had the jail scoured out and the persons that did the work used lye, when they got through, the can was placed over one of the cage cells where it could not be seen; it so happened this was the cell where Adger was occupying, and by some way unknown to anybody he found this can, being despondent and naturally a weak-minded person he prepared the stuff for self-destruction. He left two notes, one to the sheriff with regard to a little money that officer was keeping for him, the other to his mother telling her of the crime of murder. He killed two men on July 1st. The killing occurred about two and one-half miles from Summerton, and the report which reached here at the time, was that the deceased had in his employ Dorsey Felder, whom he sent to kill, accompanied by Eugene King in Adger's buggy, remaining away longer than he thought they should be started out to investigate, coming upon the two in the road, he grabbed the bride of the bride were driving, ordered them to get down and began firing his pistol killing Felder instantly and King who was hit in the throat lived until the following Monday. Adger then went to his mother's house, changed his clothes and left. He was in hiding until the next Friday night, when he came to Manning to give himself up to the sheriff, but finding that officer had retired, Adger, rather than disturb him lay down on the piazza until the sheriff arose the next morning, then he delivered himself to him, and gave him the story of not coming in immediately, that he desired to get his affairs arranged.

The brothers of the deceased came for the body Sunday, but it embalmed and took it home Sunday night for interment.

Accused of Stealing.

E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Me., boldly accuses Bucklen's Arnica Salve of stealing—the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from boils of piles. "It robs cuts, corus, bruises, sprains and injuries of their terror," he says, "as a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Only 25c at all druggists.

Casey Jones' Sister Arrested.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 25.—Her hair tousled and face and clothing begrimed with soot, an 18-year-old girl was arrested here today as she climbed out of a box car in the Missouri Pacific yards. She said she left Denver two weeks ago because her widowed mother married a man she did not love. She said, and was now bound for the West again.

"Name? Oh, yes, certainly. I'm Ada Jones, sister of Casey Jones. You see all of our folks took to railroading right from the cradle." It was the girl's answer to questions as to her identity. She will be tried in municipal court tomorrow on a charge of vagrancy.
